HAZEL GREEN, KY.:
WEDNESDAY.....MARCH 25, 1885.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce D. S. GODSEY as a candidate for the legislature, subject to action of the democratic party.

The indications now are that a larger cotton crop will be raised this year than for many years past.

In a fire at a boarding house in Bridgeport, Conn., on Friday last, two women were burned to death.

Ex-secretary Bismarck is said to have the honor of securing Hon. MILTON G. DURHAM his appointment as first controller of the treasury.

The Arkansas legislature last Friday elected Ex-Governor JAMES H. BEERY United States senator to fill the unexpired term of Senator GARLAND.

Gen. Grant's condition is much better, but it is thought the cancer which is situated at the root of his tongue, will have to be cut out to prolong his life.

Over a million more hogs have been packed this winter than last. Seven of the largest cities show a total of 4,621,064 hogs packed this season. The total packing in the west has been 6,460,240, against 5,492,064 last year.

Everything possible has been done for NEALE by his friends, but as yet no evidence has been adduced to make clear his innocence, and unless the lieutenant-governor grants a further respite, he will be snatched into eternity next Friday.

The Louisville Commercial made a long and persistent fight against the gambling dens of Louisville, and has at last been rewarded by seeing them all closed and their owners brought to justice. The Sunday Commercial is one of the best papers received at this office.

MARMADUKE, the new governor of Missouri, has been earnestly solicited to "step down and out" by two hundred signers, who say they wish some worthy man to fill the office. The governor, however, says the signers are his enemies, and he is not disposed to obey the request.

JOHN SEXTON will be hanged at Barboursville next Friday for the murder of a fellow workman at a saw mill last fall. He hid the body under a log, and subsequently induced his wife to help him move it to another place of concealment. Since his arrest and conviction his wife has told the whole story.

Another outrage has been perpetrated at Ashland, Ky. Four young white men forced a negro woman to drink whisky until she was insensible, and then repeatedly debauched her. Only one of the scoundrels has been arrested, and such indignation prevails that it is thought he will be lynched.

The Woodford Smr thinks the success of THE HERALD depends on the building of the Kentucky Union railroad. The success of the paper is assured, railroad or no railroad, and we believe the railroad will be pushed to completion. Such men as Col. YOUNG are apt to go through with all they undertake.

Senator BRIDGES, of the Illinois state legislature died on the 20th inst. His death makes a tie in the senate, but Gov. OCTAVIUS has ordered an election to be held in the 57th district to fill the vacancy, and the future complexion of that body will be in doubt until April 11th, at which time the election comes off.

The senate on Friday confirmed the nominations of MARTIN V. MONTGOMERY, of Michigan, commissioner of patents; MILTON G. DURHAM, of Kentucky, first controller of the treasury, and MALCOM HAY, of Pennsylvania, first assistant postmaster general; J. C. ADKINS, of Tennessee, commissioner of Indian affairs; JAMES D. PORTER, of Tennessee, assistant secretary of state.

"We'll be a ginger cake the Sentinel-Democrat copies our pictures from the Herald."

Well, well! Spencer, after loaning you those pictures, had a chance to use them, we did not think you would treat us that way. Ginger cake, indeed, a whole cake shop is what you are entitled to.—Sentinel-Democrat.

All right, Captain. "When the robbers next again," if you will come up we will spread out this bountiful supply of pastry which you donate, and after partaking wash it down with Swango water. Nothing mean about us. When you furnish the cakes, we'll hustle and get the water.

A MAN KILLED AT MT. STERLING.

The Blue Grass Country Keeps up Her End in the Criminal Record.
[Sentinel-Democrat, March 13.]

Yesterday about noon Henry Watson, a watchman, detected John Johnson, a negro boy about 16 years old, stealing coal from a car, and arrested him. The boy's father, Jeff Johnson, came up to Watson and asked him to release the boy, which he refused to do. An altercation took place between them, and Watson shot Johnson in the breast with a pistol, from which he died in a few minutes.

Watson claims that before he shot Johnson he was fired on by some negroes who were bystanders, and also that he was shot at numbers of times afterwards. The negroes deny shooting first. Watson was arrested by Marshal Punch and brought before Judge McKee, and as they went up street several negroes followed, some with pistols in hand and many of them swearing vengeance. We heard one man say, "He will not kill another nigger." Watson was placed in the county jail, and will probably have a trial to-morrow. The boy John Johnson was lodged in the city jail and the charge of petit larceny registered against him.

Jeff Johnson, who was killed, was a well known carpenter, about 50 years of age, and was regarded as a man of fair character. He was owned and raised by John T. Johnson, deceased, in the lower end of this county. Since the war Jeff has lived in this city, and he has raised a large family of children, some of whom have been charged with several petty crimes and given him much trouble. The writer has known Jeff since before the late war, and has never heard him accused of any misconduct. The citizens generally express regret that the bad conduct of his boy has led to his untimely death.

This is the outcome of coal stealing, which has been going on for some time. Last week the officers had a battle with a gang of coal thieves, which resulted in wounding one Marcus Crooks. The negroes are loud in their denunciations of Watson, and threaten to do him violence. Our advice to them is to let the law take its course and keep quiet. We have enough trouble now without getting up a war of races. We can assure the negroes that Watson will be dealt with as he deserves.

STATE NEWS.

Dr. Tracy, the temperance evangelist, is doing a good work at Mt. Sterling. Over 500 have signed the pledge.

Six Flemingsburg negroes of one family have died of consumption within eighteen months. Their names are Burr, Leart, Gov, Hindman has fixed Friday, April 17th for the execution of Geo. Finley, convicted of murder in Floyd county.

Hon. M. J. Darham, of Danville, has been appointed controller of the treasury by President Cleveland. Another good appointment.

Vanceburg Courier, Kentucky will get but one foreign appointment. We deem it but justice to state that this isn't Kentucky's fault.

In the Bath circuit court, Sam Clay, for stabbing miss Sallie Oldham, last fall, was convicted and sent to the penitentiary for three years.

Col. Z. T. Young who was shot in the shoulder near Morehead about two weeks ago, has almost recovered from his wound. He is now sojourning at Mt. Sterling. Vanceburg Courier. County court was slim numerically, but it made up financially. The receipts of the day from the two hotels for liquor license alone amounted to $700.

Vanceburg Courier: George W. Rogers and John C. Lovel of Maysville, are applicants for deputy collector. Both are Lewis county boys and both are full of vim, virility and vinegar. Shut your mouth and cock your ear and you will see the dandiest fight of the official fracas.

The Meeting at Frenchburg.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the democratic committee of the legislative district, composed of the counties of Montgomery, Menifee, Powell and Wolfe, present B. F. Day, proxy from Montgomery, J. C. Lykins from Wolfe, J. M. Oliver from Menifee. On motion B. F. Day was made chairman and J. M. Quillin secretary. On motion of J. C. Lykins Frenchburg was selected as the place for holding the general convention to nominate a candidate for the legislature in this district; said convention to be held on the 22d day of May, 1885. On motion of J. C. Lykins, Resolved, That the democracy of the counties composing this legislative district meet in the court house of their respective counties on the 18th day of April, 1885, in mass meeting or by delegates, as the chairman and county committee of each county may determine, to select delegates to attend the district convention to be held at the time and place aforesaid for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the legislature. On motion,

Resolved: That THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD, Licking Valley Scorch, and Sentinel-Democrat be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

B. F. DAY, Ch'm.

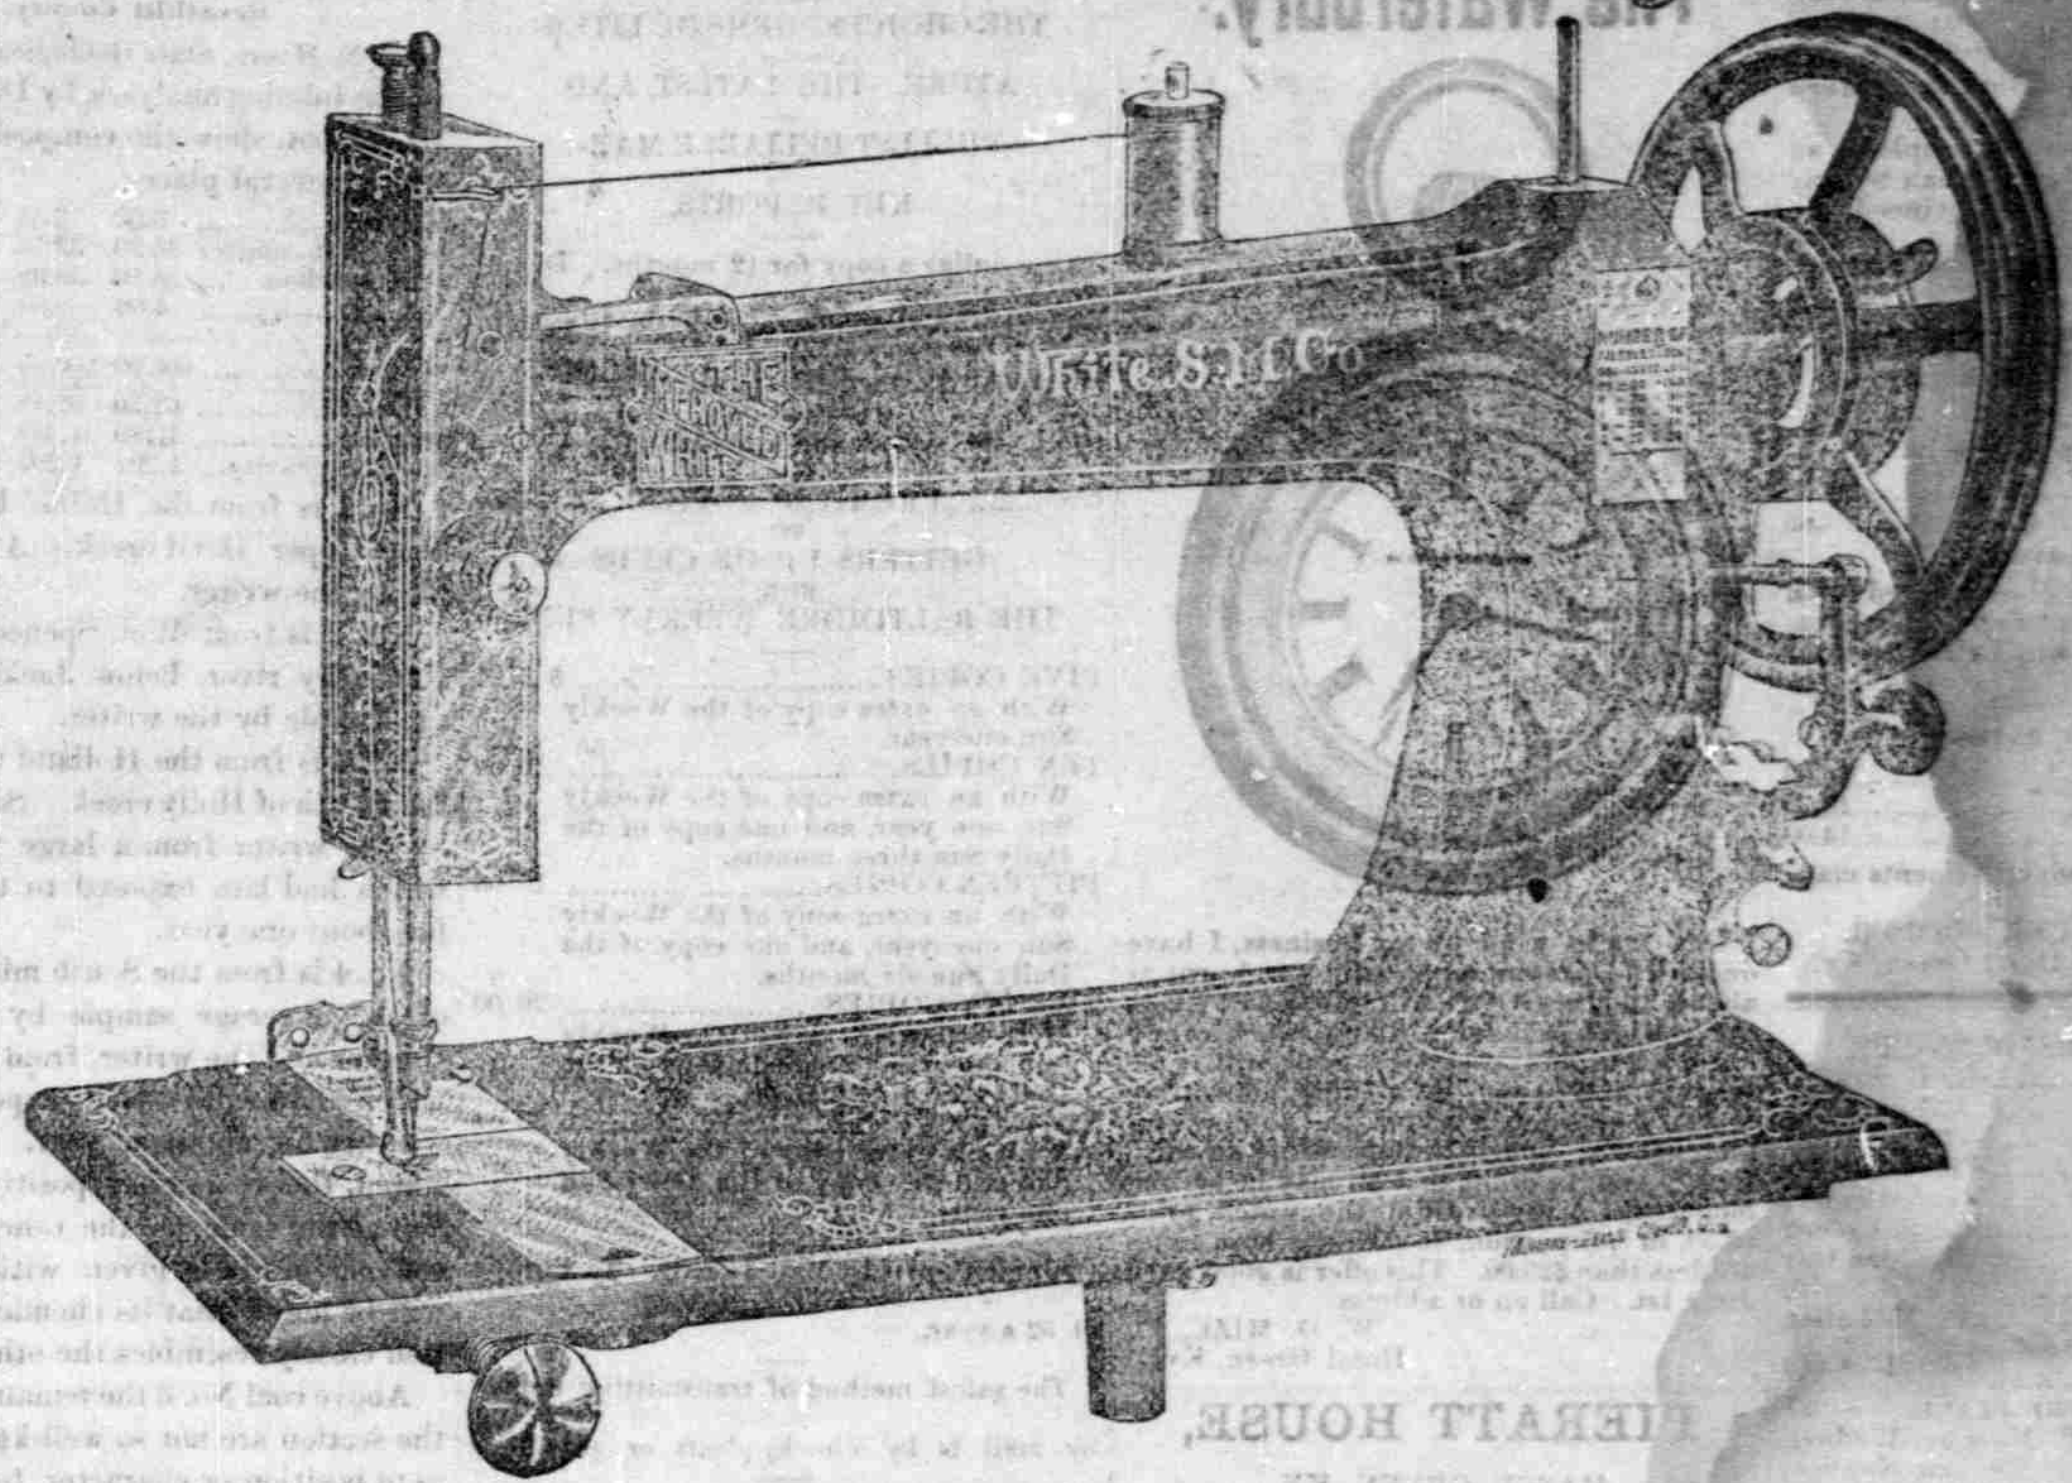

J. M. QUILLIN, Sec'y.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

You can't afford to shut your eyes to the advent of any new discovery or invention that will make life easier or work more pleasant. You would be unwise to use Tallow Candles while Gas is at hand. You would be unwise to ride in a stage-coach, while Steam Engine and Palace Car await your pleasure. You are equally unwise if you neglect to secure THE NEW AUTOMATIC WHITE SEWING MACHINE. 500,000 White Sewing Machines now make one-half million possessors happy.

The WHITE Sewing Machines!

It is the SIMPLEST and MOST DURABLE SEWING MACHINE Made.

THE ONE PERFECT MACHINE.
IT STANDS UNRIVALED!

WE ARE ANXIOUS TO HAVE A GOOD ACTIVE PERSON IN EVERY TOWN TO REPRESENT US.

The Death Knell to Polygamy.

SALT LAKE, March 19.—The Church organ breaks the silence to-night for the first time since the rumor of the coming abrogation of polygamy at the spring conference. It argues against it, but does not absolutely deny it, admitting at the same time that a portion of the Church favors the step. It closes a long editorial by saying the members of the Church who feel and talk favorably for the abrogation of doctrinal points are the reverse of strong. They probably belong to the class who believe in the fullness of the gospel as restored through Joseph Smith, and at most wish they didn't, or at least, that it was not true. They would like to do the will of God, providing it is strictly in accordance with their own. They desire to adhere to the Church because they cannot rid themselves of the conviction that it is the power of God unto salvation; but they would like its doctrines and ways more in conformity with the world, that every species of friction that causes discomfort and temporal disadvantages might be avoided. In fact, they are conservative Mormons—another term for men who, if the Church of Christ were manipulated by them, would doubtless adopt a policy of giving up religious rites by piecemeal, until every distinguishing feature between the Saints and the world would disappear, and they would be loved by all the earth, because they would be swallowed up by the world, which loves its own. It would result in another universal apostasy similar to that which took place shortly subsequent to the time of Christ's earthly mission. But coming back to the starting point, all anticipations and predictions regarding the reception of the revelations to the Church are necessarily premature. The faithful who seek to know and do the will of God will not be shaken of their purpose, neither will they "abandon their religious principles in whole or in part, under any kind of pressure whatever. They would hold to their integrity in full expectations of sooner or later beholding the salvation of God.

Reform in Kentucky.

(Covington Commonwealth.)

So far as candidates' announcements for next legislature of Kentucky have been made, there is promise of improvement. The next general assembly can hardly fail to respond to the unequivocal demand of the people for reform in the management of the state's affairs.

That a session shall not exceed the constitutional limit of sixty days;

That private and local legislation be greatly abridged or altogether suppressed in all cases in which needed action may be had in the local courts;

That all treasury leaks be stopped;

That a careful revision of the tax laws be had;

That useless offices, if any there be, be lopped off, and extravagant salaries cut down;

That practical steps be taken toward calling a constitutional convention.

In short, that we have a reform legislature, in fact as well as in name.

GENERAL NEWS.

The senate has confirmed Gen. Black as commissioner of pensions.

Ex-President Arthur has made a social call upon President Cleveland.

A western doctor succeeded in reaching several mute women to talk. Their husbands pronounce him a quack.

The forfeited Texas Pacific railroad lands have been opened for homestead settlement, and the price fixed at $2.50 per acre.

Of the reforms inaugurated at Washington, not the least gratifying are those of a domestic and social character under the gentle influence of Miss Cleveland.

Joseph Schenck, a Swede, was put in a Dakota jail charged with murder. He was found dead in his cell next day. The doctor pronounced it a case of death from fright.

Mrs. John Medsker, wife of a prominent farmer living at Melrose, Ill., was stricken with a fit, and, falling in the fire, was so terribly burned that she died within a few hours.

Near Camden, Ark., Mrs. Annie K. Choate was burned to death by her clothing catching fire from an open fireplace. She was but sixteen years old and left a child of six months.

A Washington telegram says Hendricks and Voorhees are allied against the President. We hope the report is not true, but if true so much the worse for Hendricks and Voorhees.

Out in Iowa they sent a popular journalist to jail for forty-eight hours for contempt of court. The ladies of the place filled his cell with flowers and pies. Kentucky ladies should bear this in mind.

Dick Brannon, who robbed the United States mail at Southwick, Tex., was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. He was one of the gang who murdered Marshal Gosling to effect their escape from him.

We have received many complimentary notices and good wishes from the press of our state, for all of which we are very grateful, but the following, from the Peninsula Enterprise, published at Accomac, C. H. Va., with which we were connected for nearly three years, is especially appreciated:

THE HERALD, published at Hazel Green, Kentucky, has a welcome place on our exchange list. Its editor and owner, Spencer Cooper, formerly of The Enterprise office, originated that enterprise, and its birth dates March 4th, 1885. It looks as if it were "not born under a wrong moon," being the date of the return of the Democratic party to power, and we can sincerely hope that if "there is not millions in it" to the owner, he may reap a rich reward for his labor. The first issue of THE HERALD has a neat and attractive appearance, is devoted largely to local news, and shows that the editor is as much at home in the editorial sanctum as he is efficient at the case. In every department of the newspaper business in fact, Mr. Cooper will be found capable, and we sincerely hope he will receive such encouragement as he deserves and profit by it in a manner, in which one so efficient as he is, should do.

Our correspondents are respectfully solicited to hand in their favors as early this week as possible, as we wish in next issue especially to have all the news possible of our section.
